

MARYLAND CONGRESS OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS

FOUNDING
&
HISTORY 1915-1963

FOREWORD

To compile a history of the Maryland Congress with as much accuracy as possible from 1915 to 1963, the available reports to the Annual Convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers by our past presidents proved to be a valuable source of information. These reports have been reproduced verbatim in an effort to capture something of the personality of the speaker and the atmosphere of the times. Whenever feasible supplemental information has been correlated in an effort to enhance the interest of the reader.

Much of the material from which this work was compiled was handwritten, carbon copies or rough drafts. This has been reproduced in most instances for the sake of legibility and appearance, but was not edited in deference to the interest and efforts shown by previous historians. Credit appears on the work of past contributors when known or if unknown it is so indicated.

Looseleaf binders have been used to facilitate the inclusion of information as it becomes available from private sources and to simplify the addition of each current years history.
